Alexx Mathenge

Alexx Mathenge; real name Alex Macharia Wanjugu is an MC/Creative writer/Radio comedian and Voice Talent. He has worked with SCANAD, the XYZ show and is currently at Nation Media group's Qfm.

Mathenge earned his name while working as a volunteer presenter at the newly established university radio station in the year 2008 while studying at Kenyatta University. He used to host the Morning show as a Comedian with a nagging attitude and who was so money-minded and represented the Kikuyu folks who employ such habits in life. He gathered quite a following much to the amusement of the then Director, Radio the Late Dr. Alembi. 'Mathenge' is a funny name that means a bunch of Billy goats on rampage. He also helped in creating commercials and was in-charge of the studios on Saturdays.

He started acting at a young age and got interested in comedy in high school and is a big fan of Chris Rock and Eddie Murphy. Upon admission at Kenyatta University in 2005, he immediately auditioned for a part in the enthralling Kenyatta University Travelling Theatre and was cast as a dancer and since then, he has never looked back. He was to later become the Executive Director of the theatre group which of the largest number of Alma mater who include Reddykyulass, Kajairo, Mdomo baggy, Caroline Nderitu, saddique shaaban among other entertainers in Kenya. While at KU, he managed to work with ScanAd, Reddykyulass Limited, Bornfree Foundation and appeared in several movies including Mizoga, Comrade Taka, Merchant of Venice , BBC's Comic Relief among other productions.

He graduated in 2009 with a Bachelor of Education (Arts) majoring in English & Literature. He has worked on the XYZ show as a writer and a Voice talent. Currently, Alexx is working on SERYKALY, a comedy segment on Q-fm Breakfast show about two crooked police officers who relay humour based on day to day issues together with Eric Kilingo, his partner. He also does business, events and creative writing. He is an intelligent strategist with an upper hand in management issues and superb marketing skills.

He also hosts a weekend show on the same station; Qfm on Saturdays from 9-12pm together with Eric Kilingo named KLABU RAHA.

Alex co-owns an entertainment outfit with Eric and it's also named SERYKALY and is a duly registered entity

Below is a brief about the comedy outfit

SERYKALY is one of the fastest rising comedy groups in Kenya and has existed for the last five years. Daily Nation once called the two sassy comedians 'the next big thing in stand-up comedy in Kenya'. They are currently running a comedy segment on Nation Media Group owned Qfm 94.4 based at the Nation Centre, Nairobi.

Judging from the success of their comedy shows right from Kenyatta University where they went to college, one can only wait and see what the two gentlemen have for us in store. The two comedians are currently engaging in different creative projects in the country among others TV productions, corporate roadshows, Annual general meetings, weddings and social events, awareness campaigns among other things. Some of the events they have featured in the recent years include:

1.. HIV/AIDS Concerts at various schools, colleges and universities with I Choose Life (ICL) Africa and AIDS Control Unit KU.
